The Hospitalization Group Insurance Begins In This State

The Press has received from the Associated Hospital service of Boston a full statement of their purpose in inaugurating an employe group plan of hospitalization for the working men and women of the State. They have opened an office at 21 Milk St., for the enrollment of subscribers.

Designed to spread the cost of hospital treatment among a large group of employed persons of limited means, to absorb the financial shock of emergency hospitalization, the plan in Massachusetts follows that subscribed to by about 500,000 persons in New York, and in many other communities.

A non-profit, non-charity public service, the organization is the result of three years of co-operative effort by the Massachusetts Hospital association, the Massachusetts Medical society, the Boston Hospital council, various county medical societies, physicians and public-spirited citizens of the state.

George Putnam, trustee of the Massachusetts General hospital, is president; Dr. N. W. Faxon, director of the Massachusetts General is vice-president; and Ingersoll Bowditch, trustee of Faulkner hospital, treasurer.

Directors include Rev. Robert P. Barry, director of the Catholic Charitable Bureau; Dr. J. Harper Blaisdell of the Massachusetts Medical society; Edward Dana, president of the Boston Elevated railway; Dr. Channing Frothingham, president of the Massachusetts Medical society; Louis E. Kirstein, president of Associated Jewish Philanthropies; Horace Morrison, executive committee of the Boston Health League; and Alexander Wheeler, board of managers of the Children's hospital.

"The chief aim of group hospitalization is to bring the facilities of hospitals within easier reach of the public they serve, and to provide adequate care of the sick at nominal cost," Mr. Putnam explained.

"This non-profit hospital service plan is organized to serve especially the great group of persons of low and moderate incomes who find it a burden to pay for hospital care in cases of emergency; to relieve hospitals in a measure of their charitable load, and to facilitate the practice of medicine by bringing the facilities of hospitals within reach of a greater number of persons."

Officers and directors serve without pay. Roger W. Hardy is clerk of the board. R. F. Cahillane, former director of the New York City hospitalization group is executive secretary with S. J. Barham, also of New York, as his assistant.

Enrollment in the plan is limited to groups of employed persons, embracing not less than 30 per cent of the entire personnel of the employing firm, although self-employed persons are accepted. In general single applications are not accepted.

The rate is $10 annually for individuals, $17 for husband and wife; $22 a year for husband, wife and all unmarried children under 19 years of age. No physical examination is required.

Membership entitles to 21 days of hospital care in semi-private (not ward) accommodations, the use of operating and delivery room, routine tests when ordered by the physician and anaesthesia up to $10 for each admission. Care of obstetrical cases is included only during 11 consecutive months of membership. Professional services of the resident staff of the hospital is free.

Benefits of the plan can be had only when any of the services is recommended by the patient's own physician. The subscriber pays his own physician, and the relationship between patient and physician is not altered in any way. In case of accident or emergency illness away from home, the hospital benefits are available anywhere in the world.

Hospital service to subscribers will be available immediately in about 40 hospitals of Boston and surrounding area, and within a few weeks practically all general hospitals in Massachusetts will be affiliated, Cahillane said.

The books and accounts of the Associated Hospital Service corporation are subject to audit by the commissioner of insurance for the state. Subscriber rates and contracts are subject to his approval. Participating hospitals, as well as rates paid to them for service to subscribers, must

1938 Auto Insurance Rates Are Less For Northfield Residents

State Insurance Commissioner Francis J. DeCelles has announced the new automobile insurance rates for 1938 and from present indications it appears that Northfield motorists will pay seventy cents less for light cars and $1.40 less for heavy ones than the amount paid for the current year. Last year the state was divided into nine zones, but this year will be divided into 14 zones with Northfield listed in the most favorable classification. The favored zone, however, for 1938 contains 191 cities and towns or less than the number of 218 which enjoys the classification for 1937.

Chelsea in the state has the highest rate with Boston and Revere following a close second. Newton and Brookline will enjoy notable decreases. Springfield will have an increased rate of $2 on light cars and $1.60 on heavy ones. Northampton, Westfield and Pittsfield will pay $1.30 more on light cars and ninety cents more for heavy ones. Franklin county and its twenty-six towns enjoy the most favored rate.

The commissioner declared that his examiners' figures of losses and reserves of insurance companies bear him out in his 1937 rates, which were appealed to supreme court by the insurance interest, and on which the decision has not yet been given by that court. He declared he used the same method in fixing the 1938 rates as he did in fixing those for 1937. The 1938 premiums, he said, will return in premiums, practically the same amount to the companies as did the 1937 rates, or about $24,000,000, including truck insurance.

The only difference, he explained, is in readjustment and redistribution by municipalities, placing them in the zones where they belong, as shown by their claim records.

Guest coverage cost is continued at $3.10 which the commissioner reduced last year.

This territory has been fortunate in keeping down its insurance cost for accidents and it behooves every motorist to maintain that good record. Extreme care in driving, the obeying of all motor laws and a safety speed go a long way in returning dollars and cents to the auto owner.

If your car has not been inspected thus far this month, by all means take it to your garage and have it done at once. It must bear the green sticker.

If you want to know more about the insurance rate for your particular car for 1938, consult your insurance agent as soon as the rates now publicized are confirmed.

Marriage Announced

Announcement is made of the marriage on Saturday, Sept. 4, at Barnardston by Rev. A. L. Truesdell of Miss Erma Bruhm daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bruhm and Gerald Richard Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Barnes all of West Northfield. Mrs. Barnes is a nurse at the Brattleboro Mutual Aid.

Lost and Found

Roger Gibson of West Northfield visited Brattleboro last Saturday evening and parked his car on School street about 8:30 o'clock. A short time afterward he found it missing and reported to the police. An alarm was sent out by radio to all surrounding towns and within a few hours it was found in Fitchburg. It was a roadster and was returned to its owner Sunday.

be approved by the commissioner of public welfare.

Northfield will be much interested in this effort but to make it effective in this territory the hospitals which serve us will have to agree to the plan. However, it is expected that the matter will be carefully considered by both institutions.

Dr. H. G. Stetson, president of the board of trustees of the Franklin county hospital, said this was the best plan of that type that had yet been advanced. The idea, he said, was sound and as a form of insurance would be of benefit to the average person. He said the plan was probably broader than insurance since it was not operated for profit.

The Northfield Schools are now included in a cooperative basis of medical care with the Brattleboro Memorial Hospital. The Massachusetts plan is being given careful consideration by our local physicians.

Rev. Dr. Jefferson, Well Known Preacher, Died Last Sunday

The Rev. Dr. Charles Edward Jefferson, honorary pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle in New York City, a former speaker and attendant at many of the Northfield Conferences, passed in death at his summer home at Fitzwilliam, N. H. last Sunday, Sept. 12. He was 70 years old and had been seriously ill with arterio-sclerosis, the cause of death.

He was voted as one of the twenty-five most influential ministers of the United States. At the recent General conference Dr. Paul D. Moody referred to Dr. Jefferson in his illness and prayers were requested in his behalf.

Funeral services were held at the Congregational church in Fitzwilliam Wednesday and burial was in Fitzwilliam cemetery.

Dr. Jefferson was born at Cambridge, Ohio, Aug. 26, 1866, and after graduating from Ohio Wesleyan university and serving for two years as superintendent of schools at Worthington, Ohio, he began the study of law.

The preaching of Phillips Brooks influenced him to abandon his legal studies and enter the ministry. He was graduated from the Boston University School of Theology in 1887 and for the next ten years was pastor of the Congregational church at Chelsea.

When Dr. Jefferson was called to the pulpit of the Broadway Tabernacle, then at Thirty-fourth street and Broadway, the church appeared to be on the down grade. Factional struggles within the congregation as well as the location of the church were bringing about a rapid dwindling of the membership and attendance.

Thirty-two years later, when Dr. Jefferson resigned the pastorate of the Broadway Tabernacle, he had been voted one of the twenty-five most influential ministers in the country in a poll of 25,000 ministers, and his church, still on Broadway, but further up town, was one of the most thriving in New York.

Dr. Jefferson's wife was the former Miss Bellen Patterson, of Cambridge, Ohio, whom he married in 1887. One son, Charles Frederick Jefferson, of Rochester, N. Y., also survives.

Honorary degrees of Doctor of Divinity were conferred on Dr. Jefferson by Oberlin and Union colleges in 1898, by Yale university in 1903 and by the University of Vermont in 1921. An honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred by Ohio Wesleyan university in 1905 and by Miami university in 1923. He was a fellow the Yale Corporation. He was the author of a score of books on religious subjects.

Crossnore School Again Makes Appeal

More large boxes for Crossnore will again be sent to the mountain district of the Carolinas this fall. Mrs. Hoehn who has represented the institution in its efforts for the past five years, ever since the presentation of its work during one of the summer conferences expects to add to a large quantity of goods already contributed and forward the shipments within another month.

A wonderful work is being done in this section of the southland and the school with the many orphaned children has branched out. Its industrial department makes over much of the clothing and goods received and it is sold to the natives who willingly buy with the fruits of the soil, which in turn provides the subsistence for the school. Its health work reaches out and furnishes the only medical advice and clinic to thousands of the mountain district. Last year over 6000 visits were cared for at the doctors' offices at the hospital. Crossnore is not only a school, but an institution doing a great humanitarian work.

If you have any discarded clothes, kind reader, and will contribute them to this worthy cause, call up phone 166-2 and arrangements will be made to collect your parcel—or even contribution. For the sake of needy children this appeal asks your assistance. Mrs. Hoehn will be glad to arrange for the collection of any packages in Northfield intended for the school.

Arrangements have again been completed for the policing of the summer property on Rustic Ridge, the Highlands and Mountain Park this coming winter season. The State Police will continue to make their customary visits at regular intervals.

Ashfield House Trio Engaged To Play At Northfield Hotel

The recent summer trio playing at the Northfield hotel was such a pleasing addition that the management feels the establishment of a popular precedent must not be ignored. Accordingly, this week, Mr. A. Gordon Moody, resident manager, announces the appearance of another youthful trio recently from the Ashfield House (one of the Treadway Real New England Inns) who he feels will delight the guests equally as much as the previous ones.

Miss Edith Lyman, violinist and Rosamond Salisbury, cellist, are recent graduates of Oberlin conservatory in Oberlin, Ohio. Miss Lyman was concert Meister of the Conservatory symphony orchestra, and Miss Salisbury was principal cellist. For five years Miss Lyman had the distinction of being one of the first violins in the Columbus symphony orchestra. The pianist to accompany them will be announced later, but she will, undoubtedly, be a classmate of these girls.

Mr. Moody would be highly pleased if the townsfolk would come to the Northfield parlors any evening join his guests, and find pleasure with them listening to these talented girls.

During the past summer the trio gave six one-half hour broadcasts Monday evening over WMAS, Springfield, and were known as the Ashfield House Trio.

Albany Presbytery To Gather Here

On Monday, Sept. 20, beginning with lunch and ending with breakfast Wednesday, Sept. 22, the Albany Presbytery will hold its Autumn Retreat at the Northfield. The guest speaker who will make three addresses is Rev. Peter K. Emmons of Scranton, Pa. Dr. Emmons is pastor of a large and active church, widely known, and much sought after as a college preacher, and influential in the councils of the Presbyterian church.

Each year in September the Presbytery of Albany, N. Y. made up of some sixty churches, holds a retreat for Ministers and especially appointed Elders. The official attendance is sixty, and perhaps seventy persons. However, the ministers and laymen have been cordially urged to bring their wives for these two days of inspiration and fellowship, bringing the group up to more than one hundred persons.

Mount Hermon School Faculty Additions

To fill the vacancies made by members of the Mount Hermon faculty who have left for other fields, six additions have been made to the staff this year. C. Howard Hopkins, a graduate of the University of Redlands in 1931, will teach History. He is also a graduate of Yale Divinity school and received his Ph. D. in History from Yale university.

Theodore C. Horton, will teach Bible and act as assistant coach. Horton, a graduate of Mount Hermon in 1933 and of Sheffield School, Yale university this year, pitched this summer for the Toronto Maple Leafs in the International League. Another alumnus of Mount Hermon will teach Mathematics. He is James F. Cutter, Hermon '33, a member of the all-American swimming team in 1936 and this year Inter-collegiate swimming champion NEISA, 220 and 440 yards. He is a member of this year's graduating class from Mass. State college. Richard Swinger, who will teach English, received his A. M. degree from Columbia Teachers' college this year after graduating from New York university in 1936. Francis B. Roman, who will teach French and Latin, received his A. M. degree from Harvard this year. Miss Florence MacDonald, A. B. Smith college, formerly secretary of the Rockwood Park school in Jamaica Plain, Mass., has been appointed secretary to Dr. David R. Porter, headmaster.

Receives Prizes

Brainerd Wiley, beside serving at the East Northfield post office, finds time to "carry on" in raising bantams. He has quite a large collection of the birds and sent several crates to the New York state fair just held at Syracuse. Information reached him last week-end that he had received first prize for his Partin Cochlin Bantam hen in a class of four and third prize for his Black Cochlin Hens in class of eleven.

Officers Elected At High School Of The Various Classes

With the beginning of the school year at the Northfield High school, the members of the various classes held their meetings and selected their officers for the coming year. The result of the balloting was as follows: Senior class—President, Anna Fisher; vice-president, Lawrence Harris, Jr.; secretary, Elva Martineau; treasurer, Grace Johnson.

Junior class—President, Hazel Tenney; vice-president, Ethel Miller; secretary, Betty Simmons; treasurer, Phyllis Cota.

The student council will consist of the officers of the two upper classes and the presidents of the other classes. The student council is an innovation this year and will be given a real experience in the conduct of the student life. Another new plan with the teaching staff of the school is the installation of the merit system which has much to commend it. It is hoped that this year may witness a development of a new spirit among the members of the various classes of the high school.

Training Course For Hostel Workers

Another training course for workers in the Youth Hostel movement will be held in Northfield at the National headquarters here, beginning Oct. 1, and continuing for four months. Already enrolled are students from this state, Florida, New York, and Connecticut. The course will consist of practical training in the field as well as actual study of the problems of youth. The course will be under the personal supervision of the National directors, Monroe and Isabel Smith who are expected to arrive in Northfield about Sept. 23 after attending the International Hostel convention in Paris early this month.

Saturday evening, Sept. 25, the opening number will be in the Auditorium with Cornelia Otis Skinner in her one-woman show. She has delighted many on the radio and now comes the opportunity to see and hear her personally.

Clergy - Laymen To Have Session At Lake Wyola

There will be something doing at the Anderson camp at Lake Wyola on Saturday when members of the clergy and men of the Congregational churches in this territory will get together for an afternoon and evening of good time. At 5:30 o'clock there will be a big clambake provided with ten bushels of clams and presided over by Norman Dixon, the well-known clambake expert from Eastham, Cape Cod. Rain or shine the clambake will take place. In the afternoon a baseball game will be held and a contest at horse shoe pitching. In the evening the entire group will go to the North Leverett Baptist church where Frank Auchter of Springfield will deliver a rousing talk full of humor and sound suggestions. From Northfield a good sized delegation have already agreed to go. It is said that Judge Thompson of Greenfield will be the umpire at the baseball game, assisted by Prof. Williams of Amherst.

Duley who retired from his position as head of the department of History in June.

Miss Rachel King of the Seminary Bible department received her Ph. D. at Yale Divinity school last June and has leave of absence from Northfield to serve as instructor in English in Kobe college, Japan, for the current year.

Moore cottage, which will be used for younger entering students will be in charge of Miss Angela Melville of New York. Miss Melville brings wide experience to her new post in the school through her former connection with the Co-operative Bureau for Teachers and with Pine Mountain Settlement school in Kentucky.

Miss Beatrice Rafter of Sharon will teach Biology and Chemistry. She is a graduate of Mass. State college and has had graduate work in Etymology at Boston university. Miss Anna Kurko of Hartford, a graduate of Smith college, will teach Modern European history. Miss Frances MacBrayne of Belmont has been added to the teaching staff of the Art department. IT'S IN YOUR FACE

You don't have to tell how you live each day. You don't have to say if you work or you play. A tried, true barometer serves in the place. However you live, it will show in your face.

The false, the deceit that you bear in your heart, Will not stay inside where it first got a start. For sweat and blood are a thin veil of lace. What you wear in your heart, you wear in your face.

If your life is unselfish, if for others you live, For not what you get, but how much you can give, If you live close to God in his infinite grace, You don't have to tell it, it shows in your face.

Everyman Has a Yen for a Den

DEEP in the heart of every male, be he father, husband, or brother, is the yen for a den apart from the living quarters of the household. He wants a room of solitude sacred to his interests and amusements where he can read in peace and quiet, or work out his problems uninterrupted by the radio, telephone or family conversations.

Once the man of the family thought that resorting to the basement was the last word in defeat. But no longer is that true. When the underground cemented chaos in which the old furnace was housed has been modernized with up-to-date heating equipment operated by gas, there is ample space remaining for the breadwinner's paradise, and a recreation room if he so will.

Wouldn't you, as a householder, jump at the chance to remodel your basement into a den as attractive as that shown above? The heating and winter air conditioning unit at the left is installed in a modern metal cabinet of simple lines in harmony with the modern furnishings that complete the room.

Such equipment is automatic and requires no attention. It is silent, without mechanical noise. It is clean, free from dirt, soot, smoke and odor, and besides, keeps the basement atmosphere on a level as comfortable as the rest of the house.

5 Responsibilities we have as a Commercial Bank

As a commercial bank this institution recognizes its responsibilities to the following groups of people:

- 1 To our depositors, whose funds are entrusted to our care.
- 2 To our borrowers, to whom we have advanced credit.
- 3 To our stockholders, whose money provides the bank's capital.
- 4 To our community, which benefits by the sound growth and capable management of this bank.
- 5 To our officers and our employees.

Though different in many respects our responsibilities to these groups are basically similar. The eternal principle that banking is a trusteeship is the bedrock upon which every policy and action of this bank is founded. It guides us in our daily work of serving the financial needs of the people in this community.

HEY MOTORISTS!
LISTEN!
HAPPY SUMMER!
BY THE LITTLE ENGINEER

WERE going to have the swell-est motoring season in history. New roads. Old ones fixed up. New places to go. New things to see. And new cars!

Those new automobiles are the best yet—the smoothest running, the best looking, the most comfortable, the easiest to drive, the safest. BUT—you've got to take better care of the new automobile than you did of the family car of a couple of five years.

The new cars are the last word in engineering design and performance but to create these qualities the engineers have given them higher engine speeds, higher compressions, closer clearances, new type gears and bearings and greater horsepower. These things mean greater friction and greater heat and they have brought new lubrication problems which spell grief and expense if you don't handle them properly. They can be summed up in three words—gasoline, oil, grease.

In the new engines oil should reach the fast moving parts along with the fuel. Some of the great oil companies have acted on this necessity and have given us lubricated gasoline which contains light oil and gum solvent to lubricate and clean pistons and upper cylinders the instant the engine is started. These new lubricated fuels also give old cars better performance than the old fashioned gasolines.

There is no economy in using cheap oil in your new car. In a while season it may save you the price of a few movie tickets and cost you many dollars in wear and repairs. Buy only the best advertised motor oils, preferably those made from Pennsylvania crude. Your motor will thank you and reward you.

Greases is important especially in the new cars having hypoid gears which create extreme pressures. There are now special lubricants for these. They should be used exclusively in hypoid gears and never mixed with other lubricants. Insist on this to avoid costly breakdowns. Happy summer to you!

N. H. Automobile Law Is Now Effective

What is probably the most drastic motor vehicle financial responsibility law in the United States is now in full operation in New Hampshire and many believe it will tend toward decreasing the registration of cars especially by persons unable to provide insurance or without financial responsibility.

The statute requires operator and owner to prove financial responsibility, regardless of fault, when involved in any accident in which there is personal injury or property damage in excess of $25 and to continue to show such responsibility at all times thereafter.

If insurance is chosen as the form of financial responsibility, the registrant required to furnish it must produce a certificate issued by the insurance company.

The amount of responsibility must cover payments to beneficiaries up to $5,000 for injury or death of any one person and a limit of $10,000 for any one accident.

With license suspension kept in effect until financial responsibility is shown, the vehicle cannot be used or sold until payment of any judgment rendered.

All of the provisions of the act apply to any person who is not a resident of the State exactly as if he were a resident except for the incident of registration.

Irresponsible drivers and cars will be ruled off the roads in New Hampshire.

Red Cross Aids

The American Red Cross is assisting Americans in China and through the International Red Cross is offering aid to China and Japan. The Chinese have expressed a willingness to accept aid but the Japanese have thus far refused. The County chapter has been advised that no national campaign for funds will be conducted but those who desire to contribute or proffer assistance may do so through their local banks with the understanding that all funds will be used impartially for the relief of persons of any nationality in China.

THE LOW DOWN from HICKORY GROVE

When I get to squintin' around in the paper, I always seem to run across somethin' or other that is kinda comical. And the latest, it is where they are fixin' to have a convention of the cosmetologists.

A cosmetologist is somethin' that maybe everybody don't know all about. And I looked her up, and it is a person who tells you why it is that you look so funny, and what you should do about it. And they are like a fisherman, and any person who believes a fish story, it would be safer to lock him up. And a person who imagines that a touch of purple paint at two dollars per touch, is gonna do anythin' except make you look like a sick Sioux, they might also be watched.

But these artists of the cosmetics, maybe they do some good, 'cause I see where the Gov't. says that we should put money in circulation. And instead of savin' or payin' our bills we should spend more.

And for fish stories, it is a tight race between the cosmetologists and Uncle Sambo. Yours, with the low down, JO SERRA

EDITORIAL

It has been suggested that the new bridge at Turners Falls connecting with Gill be called Samoset bridge. The reason given is to preserve some Indian legend which may be true or may not be true, which took place thereabouts. How much better to call it Turners Falls bridge which it actually is and keep it in practical harmony with the town it serves. Some of us are fed up on this Indian lore and visionary material. About the best memory of actual history concerning the Indians we have in this territory is of pillage, massacre and constant trouble over a long period of years. But perhaps the Indians were not to blame and we should memorialize their heroes.

The thumb-wagging, "gimme-a-ride" boys have wagged their way into legislative disfavor in almost a third of the states.

Fifteen states and the District of Columbia have legal provisions which prohibit roadside solicitation of rides in motor vehicles.

In addition, 24 states have laws which release the operator or owner of a car from human liability for injuries sustained by a guest passenger, except when willful misconduct or intent to injure is involved.

Thumbs down, boys.

The criticism of the auto "trailer" and the efforts of some communities to pass stringent laws against them simply is nauseating to me. You cannot stop the use of trailers by the people of this country any more than you can stop the building of additional hotels, the creation of more tourist camps or the manufacture of more automobiles. The "trailer" is here to stay and there will be thousands more and more of them. They satisfy the "gypsy" which is in us and have made possible the ambition of the average citizen to see America and enjoy the nation's playgrounds which could not be done under any other method. Trailers must be recognized as an important part of our transient life. Their use should be made subject to rules and regulations but don't get the crazy idea that they are an abomination. They are not and the Editor doesn't own one, either.

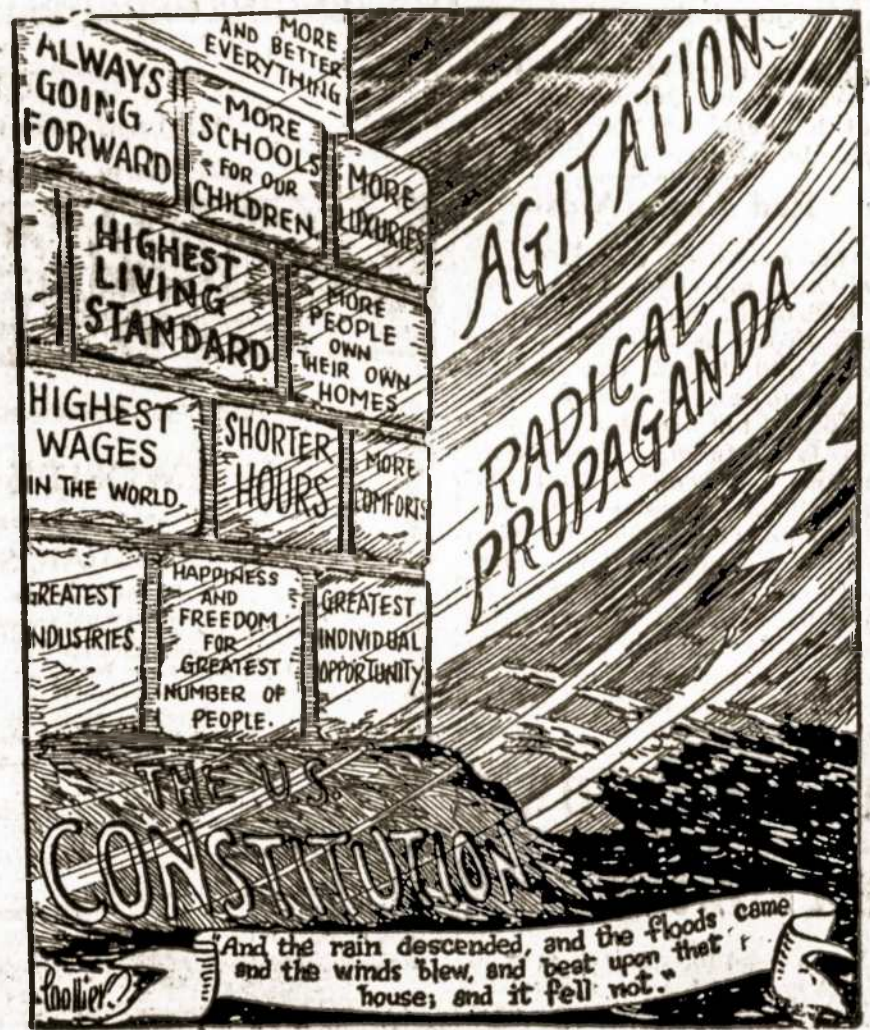

It is a paradox that while an officially created government sesquicentennial commission is endeavoring to re-ignite a devotion to the Constitution of our country, there are others in governmental authority who seek to prostitute it for their own grasping power of selfishness. The Constitution has stood for 150 years in defiance of all attacks and it will endure forever in the protection of life and the pursuit of happiness of the citizen. It provides the assurance of individual liberty and religious freedom of the average man and woman and is the bulwark of a government "of the people, by the people, for the people," which will and must not perish.

PICNICS ARE STILL IN ORDER

Although the summer is advancing and we are facing the coming of the fall season, these days between provide the most pleasurable facilities for an outing if only for a single day's picnic in the great out-of-doors. For many in Northfield the park at Mount Grace in Warwick is a most alluring place with all the conveniences of tables, fireplace and water provided by the state. And with plenty of parking space. There are many other attractive places nearby Northfield but if you have not enjoyed a picnic at Mount Grace, do so before the summer has entirely vanished.

Adventure Is Coming In The American Boy

Readers who like adventure and the lure of far places will find plenty to please them in coming issues of THE AMERICAN BOY magazine. They'll read for instance, of seamen and sabotage and San Francisco waterfront trouble; of daring adventure in the world of pseudo-science, and of a feud aboard a plunging, rolling battleship.

They'll read, too, of excitement aboard a transport plane blaring over jungled Mexican mountains, and of stranger planes that are not bound to earth but swing through the noiselessness of space. Readers can follow a young ex-Mountie as he searches for clues in the wild northlands and Tierney, the pie-eating detective, on the trail of city criminals.

A new feature in THE AMERICAN BOY is picture pages that tell stories. Pictures, for instance, that vividly show a day in the life of a coast guardsman, and how an Eskimo husky sled dog does his work. They transmit the thrill of battling a hundred pound, water-churning tarpon. Tips on how it's done are also given pictorially—ranging from how to run a broken field to how to be correct in a ballroom!

NOTE: Subscription prices of THE AMERICAN BOY will be raised in the near future. Send your subscription order at once to take advantage of the bargain rates now in effect: one year at $1.00 or three years at $2.00. Foreign subscriptions 50c a year extra. Send your name, address and remittance to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. On newsstands the price is 15c a copy.

same in the fall of 1938 by the U. S. Civil Service commission. Rep. Treadway pointed out that the entrance requirements to both service schools, which train young men for commission in the regular army and navy, are very rigid and that he is making the announcement in ample time so that candidates may prepare themselves.

He said it had been his experience that an intensive, specialized course beyond high school is needed. Full information may be obtained by writing him at Stockbridge.

Necking Ned

The road to true love isn't the main highway. In a second this romantic interlude will become a nightmare sprinkled with stardust. The stars are going to fall here lots faster than they ever feel in Alabama. The world loves a lover, all right, but there is a time and place for everything. If motorized necking is to become the great outdoor sport let's turn back to the good old horse-and-buggy days. If you must spark, first park; for on the highways a little innocent necking often leads to a lot of wrecking.
